Item V

- The amendments filed with the letter dated 08.09.05 meet the requirements of Art.34 (2) (b) PCT.
- 2 Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: WO-A-00 40098

D2: US-A-5 800 855

D3: US-A-4 505 943

D4: US-A-2 263 483

D5: US-A-3 623 889

D6: GB-A-1 050 213

- The subject-matter of present independent claims 19 and 20 is anticipated by any one of the documents D1 and D2 (see page 3, lines 22-27; examples 1-3 of D1; and column 1, lines 8-10; column 1, line 62 column 2, line 6; column 2, line 33 column 4, lines 48-55; figure 1; claims 11-17 of D2).
- 3.1 Here, the following remarks should also be taken into consideration:

a/ In the aforementioned letter, the applicant holds that "D1 does not disclose an ice cream comprising an acid which is at least partly neutralised". However, the presence of such an acid is neither explicitly nor implicitly mentioned in any one of present claims 19 and 20 either.

More specifically, in present claim 14, the dry confectionery premix of present claim 1 is admixed with an "aqueous liquid" to form an aerated confectionery product as in present claim 14: the presence of an acid which is at least partly neutralised in the final product is not disclosed in present claim 14 (and therefore not in any one of present claims 19 and 20 either).

b/ The "unique microstructure afforded by aeration with significant amounts of  $CO_2$ ", which (according to the applicant) is not disclosed by any one of the documents D1 and D2, is not mentioned in any one of present independent claims 1 and 14 (and therefore not in any one of present claims 19 and 20 either).

- On the contrary, none of the documents D1-D6 anticipates the subject-matter of present independent claims 1, 11 and 12 (see the aforementioned passages for D1-D2 as well as column 1, lines 45-53; column 2, line 49 column 5, line 18; claims 1, 5, 8, 11 and 12 of D3; page 1, column 1, lines 21-40, page 1, column 2, lines 1-25, example II of D4; column 1, line 61 column 2, line 16; examples 1-3, claims 1, 2, 7, 8, 12 and 15 of D5; and page 1, lines 39-44; page 2, line 111 page 3, line 46; example I; claims 1, 6, 14 and 15 of D6).
- The subject-matter of present independent claims 1, 11 and 12 does not involve an inventive step (Art.33 (3) PCT), in regard of any one of the following document combinations: (D2+D5+D6), (D3+D5+D6) and (D3+D4+D5) [for the corresponding passages see section 4 above].
- 5.1 Inasmuch as the applicant's inventive step assessment (presented in the abovementioned letter) is concerned, the following remarks should also be taken into consideration:
  - i/ The formulation "such that when the premix is mixed ... and a pH of greater than about 5.4" in present claim 1, does not constitute a technical feature of said claim, as it is related to the process of admixing the invention's dry confectionery premix with water (and not to said premix itself, which is claimed in said claim). Therefore, said formulation cannot be considered as representing a difference between the subject-matter of present claim 1 and each one of the documents D2-D6.
  - ii/ According to the present description (see page 1, lines 27-30 thereof), "it is an object of the present invention to provide a method of making aerated confectionery products, such as ice cream, which ... can be prepared ... without the use of complex mechanical methods". Since the present invention has as one of its aims the exclusion of complex (and not all) mechanical methods for the production of aerated confectionery products such as ice cream, it can also be easily seen that each one of the documents D2-D5 aims at a similar objective (e.g., D2 discloses that "it is desirous to use conventional equipment typically found in frozen dessert manufacturing facilities"; see column 1, lines 21-23 of said document).
- 5.2 Present dependent claims:  $a_1/2-12$ ; and  $a_2/15-18$ , do not contain technical features that would establish novelty and / or inventive step (Art.33 (2) and / or (3) PCT) for the subject-matter of present independent claims:  $b_1/1$ ; and  $b_2/14$ , respectively.

The subject-matter of present claims 1-20 is susceptible of industrial application in the field of food chemistry (Art.33 (4) PCT).

Item VII

- 7 The documents D1-D6 are not mentioned in the present description (Rule 5.1 (a) (ii) PCT).
- The formulation "and non-limiting" (see page 9, line 18 of the present description), does not meet the requirements of Rule 9.1 (iv) PCT.
- The sentence "All ... reference" (see page 17, lines 6-7 of the present description) does not fulfil the requirements of the PCT-Guidelines, Part II, 4.26-4.27.

Item VIII

- The vague and imprecise statement in the description on page 17, lines 7-14 ("Various ... following claims"), implies that the subject-matter for which protection is sought may be different to that defined by the claims, thereby resulting in lack of clarity of the claims (Article 6 PCT) when used to interpret them (see the PCT-Guidelines, Part II, 5.30).
- 11 Present claim 13 has practically the same scope as present claim 14, as the "use of a premix in a method of preparing a confectionery product" is equivalent to "a method of preparing a confectionery product by admixing (using) a premix" (see also the PCT-Guidelines, Part II, A5.21).
